PREFACE.

THIS book is intended simply to give such facts in regard to Staten Island as it is at the time of consolidation as will enable any one in the future to estimate accurately what growth the Island makes as a part of the Greater New York, and determine whether the hopes founded upon consolidation have been realized.

Stores, offices and other places of business are given in their regular order by street and number, instead of being arranged alphabetically, or classified, as in a directory.

We are confident that in the future, when the Island has become greatly changed, this book will be examined and referred to with much interest.

STATEN ISLAND TO-DAY.

STATEN ISLAND to-day offers many special inducements to people who desire to live in the country and yet have convenient access to the city. The ride across the bay is always a most delightful sail, and the three railroads which open up the greater part of Staten Island for settlement, bring thousands of the finest building sites in the world within easy access of the city. The Island has about one hundred miles of fine macadam roads completed, with nearly fifty miles under contract, which will probably be finished by the end of 1898. Cyclists can make a century run on Staten Island without leaving the macadam or passing over the same road twice. Every part of the Island is well supplied with electric lights, water, churches, schools, and social organizations.

On the Island there are fourteen Protestant Episcopal churches and chapels, thirteen Methodist, seven Baptist, six Roman Catholic, four Moravian, three Lutheran, three Reformed, and two Presbyterian.

Of secret and benevolent societies, there is no end. There are six lodges of Free and Accepted Masons, ten of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, seven of the Catholic Benevolent Legion, five of the Royal Arcanum, eight of the Ancient Order of Foresters of America, three Grand Army of the Republic, four Knights of Pythias, five Independent Order of Odd Fellows, three Knights and Ladies of Honor, three Ladies of Maccabees, two Order of Eastern Star, seven Templars of Liberty of America, two Sons of Veterans, two American Legion of Honor, two Ancient Order of Hibernians, two Companions of the Forest, two Improved Order of Red Men, two Independent Order of Foresters, two Knights of Maccabees, two Order of Chosen Friends, two

Order of Germania, three Junior Order of United American Mechanics, a Catholic Woman's Benevolent Legion, a council of the Order of American Firemen, a lodge of the Order of Harugari, a council of the Order of United American Mechanics, a council of the Daughters of Liberty, a lodge of the Daughters of Rebecca, I. O. of O. F., seven sporting associations, ten benevolent institutions, and some thirty or forty miscellaneous and smaller organizations.

The North Shore Fire Department consists of five engine companies, six hook and ladder companies, and eight hose companies. The Edgewater Fire Department consists of five engine companies, three hook and ladder companies, and eight hose companies. The Tottenville Fire Department consists of one engine company and one hook and ladder company. Beside these, there is a hook and ladder company at New Dorp, one at Kreischerville, and other fire organizations in different parts of the county.

Fifteen English newspapers, and three German newspapers are published on the Island. There are twenty post-offices located as follows:

New Brighton, West New Brighton, Port Richmond, Tompkinsville, Stapleton, Rosebank, Castleton Corners, Linoleumville, Mariners' Harbor, New Springville, Dongan Hills, New Dorp, Richmond, Greenridge, Rossville, Kreischerville, Great Kills, Seaside, Prince Bay and Tottenville.

There are five Co-operative and Mutual Building Loan associations, two banks and two savings banks.

The population of the county of Richmond is estimated at between 60,000 and 65,000.

The assessed valuation of real estate on the Island is $24,386,581, divided among the five towns, or wards, as follows:

Ward	Town	Valuation
1	Castleton	$9,936,095
2	Middletown	3,926,420
3	Northfield	4,866,985
4	Southfield	3,350,064
5	Westfield	2,306,987

The tax rate for 1897, not including village, school or road tax, was as follows:

Ward	Town	Inside	Outside.
1	Castleton	14.3
2	Middletown	20	31.9
3	Northfield	18.5	25.5
4	Southfield	26.6	35.2
5	Westfield	18.33	19.5

THE FUTURE OF RICHMOND BOROUGH.

It is impossible to contemplate the future of the borough of Richmond without indulging in the most optimistic views. The residents of Manhattan will soon begin to realize that just across the bay is land enough for a quarter of a million homes to be had almost for the asking; that the greater portion of it is high, dry, healthful and "fair to look upon," that the rent they pay for a flat would soon build a comfortable home, with lawn, garden and fruit, and all the benefits of a country home at the very gates of the city.

Richmond borough offers other advantages beside its great attractions, for suburban homes. It is especially desirable for manufacturers who wish to locate where they can have plenty of room for their factories, and to remove their employes from the distractions of city life, whether they wish to locate on the line of the railroad or on the water.

The north and east shores of the Island give facilities for the reception and re-shipment by water of the products of the great west, such as no other part of the city can offer.

With the higher ground of the Island offering such unparalleled attractions for suburban homes, and the thirty miles of shore front so many advantageous locations for docks and manufactories, it will be strange indeed if the next few years do not see a rapid growth of Staten Island in all that goes to make a community prosperous.

THE STATEN ISLAND R. T. R. COMPANY.

THE first railroad constructed on Staten Island was the Staten Island Railroad, which extended from Vanderbilt's Landing to Tottenville, a distance of thirteen miles.

The first meeting of the citizens to discuss the subject of constructing this road was held in Richmond, August 2nd, 1851.

At this meeting articles of association were submitted and adopted and were filed in the office of the secretary of state, October 18th, 1851.

The election for the first board of directors was held on the same day, and Joseph H. Seguine was elected president, George White, secretary, and Stephen Seguine, treasurer.

The first annual report was made to the state engineer on the 30th of September, 1852.

A portion of the road was opened for passenger traffic on the 23rd of April, 1860, and on the 2nd day of June, of the same year, the formal opening of the road took place.

It was a single track road, running from Vanderbilt's Landing to Tottenville, connecting with the ferries to New York and Perth Amboy, N. J. The running time from Tottenville to New York was from one hour and forty minutes to two hours, with six or eight trains each way, the last train being about seven o'clock in the evening. There was no telegraph line on the Island, and if a train broke down in transit the whole road was blocked until a brakeman could walk to Clifton and report the accident to the superintendent. If a train went into Clifton late, the boat had gone and passengers had to wait one hour for the next boat.

This condition of affairs lasted until 1886, when the Rapid Transit division was opened and the old road leased to the new company.

In the fall of the same year, arrangements were perfected by the Rapid Transit Company, whereby plans were made for building the Arthur Kill bridge and connecting Staten Island with the great trunk lines running into Jersey City.

Great improvements have been made in the service within the last two years. In addition to the Northfield, Westfield, Southfield and Middletown, two large, handsome ferry-boats, the Robert Garrett and the Casteleton (formerly the Erastus Wiman), have been put into service between New York and St. George, and the old time gas lights have been replaced by electric lights. All the old cars have been relegated to the junk heap and handsome, new and modern cars have been substituted. New, commodious ferry-houses have been built in New York, St. George and Tottenville, and new stations at Garretsons, New Dorp, Oakwood, Brendan, Giffords, Annadale and Richmond Valley. The road has been double-tracked from Clifton to Annadale and from Pleasant Plains to Tottenville. The train service has been greatly improved, there now being thirty-six trains between Tottenville and St. George, some of which are fast trains, reducing the time between Tottenville and New York to forty-seven minutes.

Among the further improvements contemplated in the passenger service are new and fast boats which will reduce the time from New York to Tottenville to thirty-five or forty minutes, additional fast trains and a second station in Tottenville.

The freight traffic of the road has been steadily increasing since the Arthur Kill bridge was opened, and at the present time the freight traffic to and from St. George docks amounts to about 1,000,000 tons annually. The company have recently increased their storage yards, which now have capacity sufficient to accommodate over one thousand cars, and any day can be seen cars at St. George from nearly every road east of the Rocky Mountains.

The company have three large docks, a coal trestle for coaling vessels and a covered pier with a capacity of accommodating two hundred cars, equipped with all the modern machinery for handling freight carefully, cheaply and expeditiously.

The company now own about two miles of the most valuable water front property on the Island and a large tract known as the Stapleton flats, where, in due time, they propose to erect elevators, storehouses and piers, with every convenience for transhipping to ocean steamers, the products of the great grain fields and coal and iron mines of the West, and for receiving goods from ocean steamers and loading them on cars, running direct to their destination in any part of the country.

This road was built specially as a passenger road, but its opportunities and possibilities for freight traffic destined it soon to become the most important terminal on the continent, as it owns greater water front on New York Harbor than all the railroads combined.

It is beyond question that this railroad has been the most potent factor in the development of the Island. Up to the time the line was opened from Clifton to Tottenville there was no way of reaching the interior of the Island, except by private conveyance or by the old stage coaches. A story is told of one of these stage drivers, that when the road was opened, he said he would ruin it if he had to carry passengers for nothing.

In 1861, the entire population of the Island was but 26,000 and the greater portion of this consisted of a fringe of villages scattered along the north and east shores, which was accessible to New York by ferries.

On the opening of the road small villages grew up all along the line.

It is true that until the last few years the service was not of the best, but the improvements which have been made since 1886, leave nothing to be desired in the train service.

The only defect now is the need of faster boats, and, as before stated, it is the intention of the company, in the near future, to put on new boats which will make the run between St. George and New York in fifteen minutes, insuring transportation between New York and Tottenville in the remarkably fast time of from thirty-five to forty minutes.

The present corps of officials is as follows:

J. Frank Emmons, president; Thos. M. King, managing director; J. Van. Smith, general manager; Edward Curry, treasurer; S. P. Kretzer, secretary; W. J. Sharp, superintendent; W. T. Manning, chief engineer; T. H. Tyrrell, master mechanic.

MIDLAND ELECTRIC RAILROAD CO.

THE present Midland Electric Railroad Company of Staten Island, was incorporated in 1895, but took the charter of the old Midland Electric R. R. Co., granted in 1888.

The road was built by the Rockwell Construction Co., W. B. Rockwell, president.

Ground was broken for the road in September 1895, and the first car was run in March 1896, on the Manor road, from West

New Brighton to Eckstein's brewery, near Castleton Corners, that was formerly operated as a horse railroad. The company purchased the old Prohibition Park Electric railroad, from Port Richmond to Prohibition Park and continued the line through Jewett avenue, Richmond road and Clove road to Concord, and from there to Stapleton, and by the fall of 1896, had the road in operation from Stapleton, through Concord, Garretsons, Grant City and New Dorp, to Richmond, and from Concord, through Prohibition Park to Port Richmond and Bergen Point ferry, with a branch from Castleton Corners to West New Brighton, and from Grant City to Midland Beach, the new summer resort, built up by the Midland Beach Terminal Company.

In the spring of 1897, the company opened the road from Stapleton, through Wright street and Richmond road, to Hyatt street, and a short time ago secured South street to the property of the S. I. R. T. R. R. Co.

They have also secured a franchise for the Fresh Kills and Shore roads, from Richmond, through Greenridge, Rossville and Kreischerville to Tottenville, and through Tottenville and up the Amboy road to Pleasant Plains and Prince Bay, and from Castleton Corners to New Dorp.

The company expect to have the extensions built and in operation during the summer of 1898, and will then have a direct line from the St. George ferry to the Perth Amboy ferry, beside the several branch roads already constructed and those for which franchises have been granted.

They now have a complete power plant of their own, sufficient to run a road which shall circle the whole Island, twenty-eight miles of track in operation and seventy-three modern cars, some of them being the largest and finest in the city.

The company have done much to open up the interior of the Island, and run through some of the finest residence sections in all Greater New York, and have added hundreds of thousands of dollars to the value of property that was previously inaccessible by any, except private conveyance, and when their line is completed through Rossville and Kreischerville to Tottenville it will be one of the most potent factors in the growth and prosperity of the borough of Richmond.

MIDLAND BEACH.

THE MIDLAND BEACH was opened in 1896, as a summer resort, although but few improvements were made until the spring of 1897.

The aim of the proprietors, the Midland Terminal Company, was to fit up a summer resort of easy access from all parts of the Greater New York, at a low rate of fare, and yet to keep it such a place as families of the higher class could go to and spend the day at the sea-shore.

Midland Beach can be reached for 10 cents, from New York by the Staten Island boats from South Ferry and the Midland Electric railroad; for 10 cents, from Bergen Point by ferry and the Midland trolley cars from Port Richmond; for 15 cents, from Elizabethport by the Elizabethport ferry to Staten Island, the Staten Island Electric railroad to Port Richmond and the Midland trolley cars to the beach.

The beach itself has no superior anywhere. It is of clean, fine sand, a gentle slope with no undertow, and is safe at all times of the tide, even for women and children.

Many improvements have already been made, and others are in contemplation. A large hotel has been erected with piazzas overlooking the bay. Two large bathing pavilions give accommodations for over 1,000 persons. A large casino with theatre and dining halls was opened last spring, in which coucerts or dramatic performances were given every afternoon and evening. Beside these, there is a long row of buildings facing the bay, containing restaurants, photograph gallery, kinetoscope exhibitions, ice-cream saloons, merry-go-round, etc. A board plank walk, 2,000 feet long and 20 feet in width, from the western pavilion to the eastern end of the bathing grounds, forms a delightful parade, on which thousands promenade or loiter to watch the bathers.

The terminal of the Midland Electric railroad is especially adapted for the handling of large crowds. The road is double tracked all the way from the beach to St. George, and at the Beach terminal the road forms a loop with two fine, large, covered passenger stations—one for unloading and one for taking on passengers, so that without crowding or delay the road is able to handle the largest crowds.

Midland Beach did not grow into popular favor. Its popularity was instantaneous. Even before the present handsome buildings were erected, the beauty of the beach alone attracted large crowds, but since the improvements have been made the attendance has been simply phenomenal.

But the feature which more than all others recommends this lovely resort is the excellent order and quiet demeanor of even the largest crowds which visit the beach, making it a fit place for women and children to spend a pleasant summer's day. It is a place where the best families on the Island go often to bathe and spend a few pleasant hours by the sea, because it is so easy of access, and nothing is allowed there which can offend the eyes or the ears of even the most fastidious.

Midland Beach has become the Mecca of bicyclists who visit the Island, and a large building has been erected in the rear of the hotel, devoted exclusively to the care of visitors' wheels.

The present officers of the company are as follows: John Hinchcliffe, president; M. J. Wightman, vice-president and general manager; James C. Hinchcliffe, secretary and treasurer.

THE STATEN ISLAND WATER SUPPLY COMPANY.

THE oldest water company on Staten Island is the S. I. Water Supply Company, incorporated in 1878. This company supplies the entire north shore of Staten Island, having a population of 25,000.

In 1881, the company put down its first wells, a few driven wells on the grounds at West New Brighton, where the present plant is located, and placed 15 miles of pipe in the principal streets and began business in a small way.

From its inception, the company has made a steady growth, each year adding additional wells, laying more pipe and increasing its service until it now has one hundred and fifty-five flowing wells, from sixty to one hundred and thirty feet in depth, seventy miles of pipes, covering all the principal streets, with six hundred and forty hydrants and about four thousand taps.

The present capacity of the pump is eight million gallons daily, and the consumption about 4,500,000 gallons.

The system is that of pumping direct to the supply pipes under a pressure of 145 pounds.

The water is of the best quality, and pure deep-well water.

The company have recently purchased a plot of about 30 acres in New Springville, where 16 test wells have been put down, which flow about 400,000 gallons per day. They propose this year (1898), to build an auxiliary pumping station on this ground, connecting with their mains at West New Brighton. They have also water property on Brighton Heights, where they intend soon to erect a pumping station to supply the range of hills between the south and north shores.

The total amount of water supplied by this company in 1897 was 1,270,132,850 gallons.

The company have recently extended their mains through Richmond turnpike as far as New Springville, and now cover nearly the entire towns of Northfield and Castleton.

So far as abundance of pure water under high pressure is concerned, this company leaves nothing to be desired either for fire protection or for domestic and commercial uses.

The officers of the company are: Horace Brightman, president; H. L. Horton, treasurer; H. I. Brightman, secretary; John S. Warde, superintendent.

THE CRYSTAL WATER COMPANY OF EDGEWATER.

THE CRYSTAL WATER COMPANY of Staten Island was incorporated in 1884, with a capital of $100,000. A franchise was granted by the village of Edgewater and a contract made for 100 hydrants at an annual rental of $40 each.

The original water supply, obtained by an impounding reservoir, came from New Springville near Bull's Head, and a force main was laid the whole length of Richmond turnpike to a reservoir on the Little Clove road, elevation 250 feet above sea level, from which the water was distributed by gravity through the village of Edgewater. The reservoir is admirably located and has a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons.

In July 1890, the company was reorganized under the name of "The Crystal Water Company of Edgewater" with a capital of $1,000,000. Owing to the growth of the plant, it was deemed advisable to increase the supply of water by driving twenty-five 6 in. tube wells in the Clove Valley, to a depth of from 80 to 110 feet. A pumping station was located there at an elevation of 130 feet above sea level, and thereafter the main supply was taken from this source, the Bull's Head pump being used only as an auxiliary.

From time to time more wells have been driven and a new pump with a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons per day was placed.

Later, when a demand for water was made by residents on Grymes Hill, which is at an elevation of 420 feet and cannot be supplied by gravity from the reservoir, a standpipe of 100,000 gallons, capacity was erected on the Hill and a high service pump was added at the Clove Station.

The history of water-works repeats itself here, and, from the small beginning made by the first promoters, it has grown to be one of the largest private plants in the state, with nearly fifty miles of pipe, two pumping stations, two hundred acres of water land and five pumps, with a daily capacity of six million gallons. It supplies a population of about twenty thousand and furnishes the village of Edgewater with fire protection through 400 fire hydrants. It has 2,500 services and, by a regulated meter system, the daily per capita consumption is kept down to about 78 gallons.

The present officers of the company are: President, W. J. Curtis, 45 Wall street, New York; vice-president, T. C. Woodbury, Portland, Maine; treasurer and general manager, J. B. Newhall, Stapleton, New York.

THE N. Y. AND S. I. ELECTRIC COMPANY.

THE NEW YORK AND STATEN ISLAND ELECTRIC COMPANY, of Livingston, was incorporated in the spring of 1897, with the following officers: Hon. Edward P. Doyle, president; J. E. Comins, secretary and treasurer.

The company purchased the large plant at Livingston which was originally begun under the management of Erastus Wiman, and have completed the building and put in a complete and powerful electric power and lighting plant, built after the most modern and approved methods.

The company also purchased from the receiver the plant and franchises of the electric Power Co., of Staten Island, of the Port Richmond Electric Light Company, of Port Richmond, and from the S. I. Electric Railroad Company its plant, and consolidated all these plants, or rather franchises—as the machinery is all new—into one company, the New York and Staten Island Electric Company.

The electricity now used is generated by the following engines:

One 1200 h. p. E. P. Allis engine, direct connected to an 800 K. W., Walker generator;

Two 750 h. p. E. P. Allis engines, direct connected to two 300 K. W., generators;

Two 450 h. p. McIntosh & Seymour engines, direct connected to two 300 K. W., Stanley alternators;

Two 600 h. p. McIntosh & Seymour engines, direct connected to two 450 K. W., Stanley alternators;

Three 120 h. p. Ball engines, connected to three 160 light Brush arcs;

Two 40 h. p. vertical engines, direct connected to two 20 K. W., excitors.

The power for these engines is generated through 10 Altman & Taylor horizontal water tube boilers of 350 h. p. each.

All the machinery of this plant is of the latest and most improved pattern. Its light capacity is 1500 K. W. alternators and 3 multi-circuit arc dynamos, sufficient to maintain 30,000 incandescent lights and 480 arcs.

When this company was organized, the electric lighting and power business conditions of the Island were in a most chaotic state. Aside from the two plants supplying the power for the electric railroads, there was the unfinished building at Livingston, the electric light plant at St. George, and the electric light plant at Port Richmond, the latter three in the hands of receivers, with both plant and conductors in a dilapidated condition.

The new company, with Col. G. B. M. Harvey as its financial head, at once raised capital to complete the Livingston plant with sufficient capacity to supply light and power for all the streets and railroads on Staten Island, and whatever commercial lighting could be secured.

Mr. Doyle, the president of the company, then went before every municipal board on Staten Island, which had power to grant franchises or lighting contracts, and representing the only company which could furnish either electric lights or power, the people welcomed his enterprise and extended every facility to the company.

They have now about 250 miles of street lighted with 461 arcs and 4,370 incandescent lights, beside many thousand commercial lights. It was a work of no inconsiderable magnitude to put up poles, wires and lamps through 250 miles of streets, during a single summer, and while the people were sometimes impatient at the slow progress of the work, the present system now completed, is a lasting monument to the executive ability of Mr. Doyle and his assistants, S. B. Libby, superintendent of operation and of line construction, under whose supervision all the new lines were constructed; W. H. Brenner, construction engineer of the Livingston power house, under whose supervision the machinery was erected, and Daniel Campbell, who was superintendent of the construction and fitting up of the new power house, engine beds, foundations, etc.

During the fall months, the increase in the consumption of electricity was so rapid that it was impossible to put in the engines fast enough to keep pace with the demand for power and light, and at times the lights were somewhat dim, but since the power plant has been completed, the service is of the very best, and subscribers and the public are thoroughly satisfied, and when the borough of Richmond was born out of the new charter, there was nothing in all the borough which so much contributed to making it a fit portion of the great city as the New York and Staten Island Electric Company and the light and power which it supplied.

THE RICHMOND COUNTY GAS-LIGHT CO.

THE RICHMOND COUNTY GAS-LIGHT COMPANY was organized in 1856, to furnish gas for the entire county, but more especially for the villages of the east and north shores. The works were located at Clifton, and the offices at Stapleton. A few miles of pipe were laid, and the company began furnishing gas to consumers. The price then was $3.50 per thousand cubic feet. The company have gradually increased their plant, year by year, until now they have forty-eight miles of street pipe including all the principal streets from South Beach to Port Richmond, and furnish gas to about 2000 consumers.

In 1885, the company adopted the system known as the "water gas" system, and since that time have made large reductions in the price, although giving a superior quality. During the past year, they have reduced the price from $1.75 to $1.50 per thousand feet, since which time the consumption has largely increased, as consumers find it economical to use for heating and cooking, as well as for lighting.

At their office in Stapleton, the company always keep a large variety and assortment of the newest and most approved patterns of heating and cooking stoves.

The present capacity of the works is 350,000 cubic feet per day. The storage tanks at Clifton have a capacity of 200,000 cubic feet, and the one at West Brighton 50,000. The annual consumption is in the neighborhood of 55,000,000 feet.

The officers of the company are: J. Hull Browning, president; C. C. Eddy, vice-president; W. Mackenzie, secretary; William Welsh, superintendent; William J. Welsh, assistant superintendent. Office, 208 Bay street, Stapleton.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY TELEPHONE COMPANY.

TELEPHONE service on Staten Island is furnished by The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. There are four exchanges on the Island, West Brighton, Tompkinsville, New Dorp and Tottenville. In and around the borough of Richmond there are about 40,000 telephone subscribers, and throughout the United States there are over 200,000 stations.

The value of the service is inestimable, and it connects the home on Staten Island with the office in New York, Newark, Paterson, or wherever it may be. It insures the safety of the home in that it connects with the police and fire departments. It permits a man to remain at home when necessary and to still keep in touch with his business; it is the most satisfactory of the speedy means of communication and saves many miles of unnecessary travel. The service on Staten Island is being constantly extended and many new subscribers are being added.

The company have spared no expense to make their service and lines the very best that could be obtained.

There are at present over 700 subscribers on Staten Island provided with both night and day service, metallic return circuits, and long distance equipments, capable of communicating with equal ease to New York or St. Louis, Mo. The rates are very reasonable.

The principal office of the company on Staten Island is at West New Brighton, and the general and executive offices are located at Willoughby and Lawrence streets, Brooklyn, N. Y.

—o—

The other corporations on Staten Island are the Shore Water Company, at New Dorp

the Westfield Water Company and the S. I. Electric Railroad Company. The village of Tottenville is supplied with a plant built by the village trustees.

FIRST OFFICIALS

— OF THE —

BOROUGH OF RICHMOND.

FIRST OFFICIALS OF THE BOROUGH OF RICHMOND.

A PECULIAR personal and historical interest always attaches to the men who are the leaders in any great movement, and no future officials of the borough of Richmond will stand out so prominent in the memory of its inhabitants or the history of the borough as the present ones, upon whom devolves the arduous duty of bringing order out of the chaos caused by the passing away of all the many small municipalities and boards of officials, and the establishment of a complete new order of things.

Other officials may have larger financial interests placed under their control and the welfare of a larger population to minister to, but they will simply carry on the affairs of the government as they have been previously administered, and take up the regular course of routine work.

It is impossible to predict the future of Richmond borough, but there can be no doubt that its history will be one of rapid growth and progress, not only in wealth and population but in all that makes up a delightful place of residence.

Cut off as we are from all the noise and confusion of the great city, Staten Island is pre-eminently the place for quiet, beautiful homes with lovely lawns and well-kept streets, and with all the luxuries but none of the annoyances of city life.

The mayor of Greater New York has selected as the first rulers of the borough some of the ablest men in the Democratic party, progressive men of long experience in the administrative affairs of the county, men abundantly qualified to give proper system and organization to the new order of things, and the success of this great change will be largely due to their labors and faithfulness.

These men will occupy so conspicuous a position in the history of Richmond borough that we have added to this work a brief biographical sketch of those holding the more important offices.

THE BOROUGH BOARD.

THE PRESIDENCY OF THE BOROUGH.

THE question of the presidency of the borough is still unsettled as these pages go to press. The face of the returns gives the Hon. George Cromwell, the Republican candidate, 5427, and Dr. John L. Feeny, the Democratic candidate, 5424, with about 375 void and protested ballots and ballots marked for identification. Dr. Feeny secured an order from Justice Dykman, of White Plains, to the protested ballots passed upon by the courts. Of these, it was agreed by both parties, that over two hundred were void. A contest was made over the remainder.

In the twelfth district of Castleton, the tally sheets gave Mr. Cromwell 36 votes that were not entered on the returns. Justice Dykman's decision gave Dr. Feeny 41 majority, which would more than wipe out Mr. Cromwell's majority of three and the 36 claimed in Castleton. Mr. Cromwell then tried the case to the appellate division of the supreme court, which reversed Justice Dykman's decision, and increased Mr. Cromwell's majority to 17. Dr. Feeny then carried the case to the court of appeals, where it is still pending.

HON. GEORGE CROMWELL.

THE HON. GEORGE CROMWELL, Republican nominee for the office of president of the borough of Richmond, was born in Brooklyn, July 3rd, 1860. In honor of the event, his father, at the time, presented to his mother the magnificent property at Dongan Hills, known as Far View farm. His father, the late Henry B. Cromwell, was a well-known merchant and founder of the Cromwell steamship lines, before the war, which did a large carrying trade with the West Indies, South America and nearly all the southern ports. He was the first to adopt the screw as a means of propulsion for ocean-going steamships, in place of the old side-wheels. He was as much ridiculed at that time, for his advocacy of the propeller, as one would be now who proposed going back to the old side-wheel.

Mr. Cromwell's step-father, the Hon. Charles L. Benedict, served on the bench as judge of the United States district court for thirty-five years, and recently retired on account of his ill health.

Mr. Cromwell is a descendant of the Cromwell family, famous in English history—the family of Oliver Cromwell, the Protector, and of Thomas Cromwell, the great Earl of Essex, of the reign of Henry VIII. On his mother's side, he is descended in a direct line from Elias Hicks, the famous Quaker preacher.

Mr. Cromwell received his early education at the Juvenile high school and the Polytechnic Institute, of Brooklyn, from which latter school he was graduated in 1878, as the salutatorian of his class. He took a post-graduate course of study for a year at the Polytechnic before entering Yale University, which he did with the class of '83, graduating with honors after the usual four years' course, and receiving, at the end of the Junior year, the much coveted honor of an election to the famous Senior society known as "Scroll and Keys," to which but fifteen are chosen from each class.

After graduation, Mr. Cromwell spent a year in travel abroad, going as far east as Egypt and the Holy Land. Upon his return to America, he took the course at the Columbia Law school, was admitted to the bar in the spring of 1886, and entered the office of Elihu Root.

In the fall of 1887, Mr. Cromwell was nominated by the Republicans of Richmond county for the assembly, and was elected by the unprecedented majority of 1229; although, with the exception of the assembly, the entire Democratic ticket was elected by between 1300 and 1400 majority. This was, probably, the largest majority ever given a Republican in Richmond county.

Mr. Cromwell at once took a prominent place in the assembly, and was placed upon four committees, among them the cities committee and the canals committee. He passed an unusually large amount of much needed legislation for Staten Island, among his measures being the present Arbor day law; the bill to remove the old Government cholera burying ground from Seguine's Point, and provide for the erection of the present crematory on Swinburne Island; the fish and oyster protection bill, directed against the abuses of manhaden fishing; the bills amending the village charters of Edgewater, New Brighton and Port Richmond; the law regulating the landing of excursion parties on the west shore of the Island. He also secured the passage of the present Poor bill abolishing the old board of county superintendents. The bill, however, did not become a law at that time, as the governor failed to sign it. Two years later, the same bill was introduced by Assemblyman Cornell, and Mr. Cromwell went to Albany to help secure its passage. It was signed by the governor, and has saved Richmond county many thousands of dollars. He also introduced the pier and bulkhead line bill in the assembly and secured its passage through that body, but it failed in the senate. Later, the same bill was passed and has become a law.

In the fall of 1888, Mr. Cromwell was unanimously nominated as the Republican candidate for congress, for the first congressional district, but was defeated by a small majority, although running about three thousand votes ahead of the national ticket, in the district. He was made the state committeeman for the district, however, and served in that capacity for two years.

Mr. Cromwell then practically withdrew from active politics and devoted himself to the practice of law, connecting himself with the well-known firm of Butler, Stillman & Hubbard, and making admiralty law his specialty. He held no public position until 1897, when Governor Black appointed him as one of the Richmond county park commissioners. He was chosen president of the board.

For several years Mr. Cromwell and his brother, the late Henry B. Cromwell, had, on Far View farm, the homestead, one of the largest stocks of choice Jersey cattle in the country, but at present the farm is devoted to the breeding of hackney horses.

JOHN L. FEENY, M. D.

JOHN L. FEENY, M. D., the Democratic nominee for the office of president of the borough of Richmond, is the second son of the late Dr. Joseph Feeny, of Stapleton, who opened, in 1849, the first drug store established on Staten Island, and who was one of the leading physicians on the Island in the early sixties. He afterward moved to Jersey City, where his reputation as a successful physician had evidently preceded him, as he was made health officer of the city the next year after taking up his residence there. Dr. Joseph Feeny was one of the most scholarly men of the county and, before he began the practice of his profession was the principal of one of the most thorough classical institutes ever established on the Island. He died at his residence in Jersey City in 1866.

Dr. John L. Feeny was from his earliest boyhood selected by his father as his successor in the medical profession. At the early age of fifteen years, he had acquired an excellent classical education, and began the study of medicine under the late Dr. Thos. C. Moffatt, at the same time getting a large practical experience at the Seamen's Retreat Hospital, where he remained until he entered the University of New York medical department, from which he was graduated in 1866, among the highest in the class. During his college course, he studied under such famous physicians as Valentine Mott, Alfred C. Post, William H. VanBuren, Alfred Loomis and John T. Metcalfe; also under Professors Budd, Paine and the Drapers. After leaving the University, he took a special and private course under Professor Ayellette. It will be seen, therefore, that his father, being a prominent physician himself, was able to secure as instructors for his son, the most famous physicians and teachers of that day.

Upon completing his course of study, he was appointed house physician to the Seamen's Retreat, a position which he filled with honor until 1869, when he resigned to enter on private practice in Stapleton. In 1870, he was appointed physician to the metropolitan police, and was for several years surgeon to the Richmond county police. He has been health officer for the town of Middletown and the village of Edgewater for many years, and is a member of the Richmond County Medical Society.

In the spring of 1893, Dr. Feeny was elected to the board of supervisors, and held the office continuously until the board was abolished by the new charter, being re-elected at the end of each term by large majorities.

For the past five years, Dr. Feeny has been chairman of the Democratic County General Committee, and one of the acknowledged leaders of his party.

In private life, the doctor is one of the most congenial and companionable of men and has a host of devoted friends. In his professional and official duties, whatever he has to do is done thoroughly and well, not the smallest details being overlooked or omitted.

Of Dr. Feeny, Preston's History of Staten Island, published in 1886, says:

"Dr. Feeny has now been in active practice more than sixteen years, during which time many remarkable cases have come under his notice and been treated by him. He adds to his large experience an intense love, not only of his profession, but of all scientific and artistic study. He is up in the classics, has traveled considerably, and taken a deep interest in historical research.

"The deep interest which he has taken in the health of the community in which he lives, and the county at large, and especially the freedom with which he responded to a call made on him for lectures on hygienic subjects, during the recent cholera agitation, will long be remembered with pleasure by the people of Staten Island."

Dr. Feeny's opponent in the recent election, the Hon. George Cromwell, was the candidate of five separate organizations, not one of which polled less than 500 votes, while Dr. Feeny was on only one, the regular Democratic ticket. The face of the returns shows that whether the doctor wins or not he made a most phenomenal run.

Dr. Feeny was married June 9th, 1870, to Miss Emma Bateman, daughter of the famous engineer, John F. Bateman, of Maine. They have four children living, Mrs. Charles P. Norcross, of New York, Marguerite, Elsa and John L., Jr.

COUNCILMAN BENJAMIN J. BODINE.

BENJAMIN J. BODINE, councilman of the borough of Richmond, was born in 1848, at Castleton Corners. He was educated in the schools of Staten Island, and at the age of fourteen ran away from home, and enlisted in the Union army.

He served in the army of the Potomac under Gen. Hancock, and after the close of the civil war, was sent to the Platte Valley, Neb., where he served in the Indian war until mustered out in 1866. He then returned to Staten Island.

Mr. Bodine was in business on Staten Island until 1890, when he was appointed to the office of superintendent of the poor. He has proved himself a model superintendent, and all the affairs of the house have been conducted in an admirable manner, to the entire satisfaction of both the inmates and the tax-payers.

His military training was seen in the excellent discipline of the institution and the neat and orderly manner in which everything was done. During his administration the county farm was one of the model places of the Island.

Mr. Bodine held this position until Staten Island became a part of the Greater New York, when he resigned to assume the duties of councilman, to which office he had been elected.

Mr. Bodine is a member of the council committees on law, parks, public buildings, rules, public charities, and printed and engrossed ordinances and resolutions.

COUNCILMAN JOSEPH F. O'GRADY.

JOSEPH F. O'GRADY was born in New York city, and has been a resident of Richmond county since he was one year of age. He attended St. Peter's Academy at New Brighton, and was afterward graduated from Grammar school, No. 29, New York, and from Manhattan College in 1880. He then began his career as a teacher in public school No. 4, Tompkinsville, where he remained until 1890, resigning the vice-principalship of his school to accept the office of village clerk.

In this capacity he has grown more useful and popular with each year, and has been unanimously re-appointed to the position four times.

He received the nomination of his party in 1896 for the office of county clerk, but, owing to the split in the party, during the McKinley-Bryan campaign, he was defeated.

Mr. O'Grady is a member of the following council committees: Finance, sewers, water supply, public education and public printing, and chairman of the committee on fire.

ALDERMAN JOHN J. VAUGHAN, JR.

JOHN J. VAUGHAN, JR., was born in Wales in 1848. When he was eight years of age his parents moved to Rossville, Staten Island. At the age of fifteen years he enlisted in the Union army, in Regt. 155 N. Y. Vols. of Corcoran's Irish Legion, which was then stationed at Camp Scott, and was assigned to duty as drummer.

He participated in the battles of Deserted Farms, Suffolk, Black Water, Eatonton Road, Spottsylvania Court House, Mattapony, North Anna, South Anna, Cold Harbor; assaults on Petersburg, June 16th, 17th, 18th and 22nd, 1864; Ream's Station, Hatcher's Run, Deep Bottom; the breaking of the Confederate lines in front of Petersburg, April 2nd, 1865; Burksville, and at High Bridge, where he was captured, three days before the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox. He was with Lee's army at the time of the surrender.

On his return from the army, Mr. Vaughan settled in Westfield, where he has been kept almost continuously in office, running far ahead of his ticket whenever nominated, and was never defeated. He held the office of superintendent of the poor five years, has served one term as sheriff and two terms as under-sheriff. He is also junior vice commander of Lenhart Post, 163, G. A. R., past chancellor of Richmond Lodge, No. 80, K. of P. and a charter member of Picneer Lodge, No. 335, A. O. U. W., of Stapleton.

Mr. Vaughan is a member of the following committees: Parks, water supply, public education, and chairman of the committee on public charities.

THE JUDICIARY.

JUDGE THOMAS W. FITZGERALD.

THE HON. THOMAS W. FITZGERALD, the first judge of the court of special sessions from the borough of Richmond, was born in New York, Sept. 1st, 1854. He was educated at the College of the City of New York, studied law under the late Francis N. Bangs, of New York, and was admitted to the bar in 1875.

He removed to Staten Island in 1872, but remained in the practice of the law with Mr. Bangs until 1884. His first official position was that of member of the board of pension appeals, to which he was appointed by President Cleveland in 1887.

In 1889, he was elected district-attorney of Richmond county and held the office for two successive terms, being re-elected in 1892, by the largest majority ever given for that office in the history of the county. On the expiration of his second term he retired from office and devoted his time to his large private practice until he was elevated to the bench by the first mayor of the Greater New York, to serve as a judge of special sessions for the boroughs of Richmond, Brooklyn and Queens.

In 1893, Mr. Fitzgerald was elected from this senatorial district as one of its delegates to the constitutional convention of 1894, and helped to form the present state constitution.

Judge Fitzgerald has always been known as a lawyer of marked ability and has won many important cases, both as district-attorney and as a private practitioner.

His elevation to the bench received the unqualified approval of a very large circle of friends, both in the borough of Richmond and in all parts of the Greater New York.

Judge Fitzgerald has always been a staunch Democrat and was for many years vice-chairman of the county General Committee, and a delegate to many important party conventions. He is well known throughout the state as a forcible campaign orator, and has taken an active part in every political campaign since he arrived at the age of manhood.

HON. JOHN J. KENNEY.

THE Hon. JOHN J. KENNEY, municipal court justice, was born in New York in 1858. His family soon afterward moved to Staten Island, and he has since resided here.

He was educated in, and was graduated from, the schools of the county, taking a high rank in his studies. After his graduation he taught in the Madison avenue public school at New Brighton for three years and then entered the law office of the late Tompkins Westervelt, and was admitted to the bar in Brooklyn in 1880.

He established himself at New Brighton, and in 1882, was elected clerk of the village of New Brighton, which position he held for nine years, resigning in 1891.

He was elected school commissioner of Richmond county in 1887, and to his credit may be placed the inauguration in the county of uniform examinations for teachers' licenses, new school buildings at Port Richmond, West New Brighton, Graniteville, Garretsons, Giffords, New Springville and Richmond, beside many other improvements in the government and management of schools.

On the expiration of his second term, in 1893, he devoted his whole time to his rapidly increasing practice and soon came to be reckoned one of the leading lawyers of the county.

In 1895, he was made counsel to the board of supervisors and held this position up to the time of the final dissolution of the board, Dec. 31st, 1897.

MUNICIPAL COURT JUSTICE ALBERT REYNAUD.

THE HON. ALBERT REYNAUD, municipal court justice for the second district of the borough of Richmond, was born in New Orleans in 1853, but he has been a resident of New York and vicinity since early boyhood. He was graduated at Seton Hall College in 1871, at South Orange, N. J., and was also graduated from Columbia College law school in 1874.

He entered the law office of Coudert Bros. in 1871, where he remained for eight years. He then began the practice of the law on his own account. In 1890, he moved to New Dorp, which place he has since made his home.

Judge Reynaud is best known to Staten Island through the long proceedings which the Midland Electric railroad has had in securing the necessary franchises, which has been one almost continuous series of litigation, to establish such rights as would enable it to give traveling facilities for the interior of the Island.

Judge Reynaud was the company's counsel from the time the road began its operations until he resigned as counsel in August, 1897. During that time over thirty injunctions were issued against the company, and in each case Mr. Reynaud had the injunctions set aside.

Mr. Reynaud was also counsel to Dr. John L. Feeny in the famous contest over the counting of rejected ballots for the first presidency of the borough.

In all these contests Judge Reynaud has shown great legal acumen and won for himself a place in the first rank among the lawyers of the borough.

Judge Reynaud has a handsome residence at New Dorp, where he has a most interesting family, his wife and eight children.

Previous to his elevation to the bench, Judge Reynaud was the senior member of the well-known law firm of Reynaud, Harris & O'Neill, with offices at 35 Nassau street, New York. His junior partner, William F. O'Neill, was the Democratic candidate for justice of the supreme court in the election of 1896.

THE HON. JOHN CROAK.

THE HON. JOHN CROAK, city magistrate for the first district of the borough of Richmond, is a native of Staten Island and in the prime of vigorous manhood. He studied law in the offices of the late S. E. Church and Brown & Estes, in New York city, and was graduated from the Law University of Albany, where he was a classmate of President McKinley.

After being admitted to the bar, he began the practice of law in New York city, and for the past twenty-seven years has kept the same office, at 229 Broadway, where he has practiced both in the state and the U. S. courts.

Judge Croak has served two terms as district-attorney of Richmond county and one year as member of assembly, and has been at different times counsel to the board of police commissioners, the county board of excise, the Port Richmond village trustees, the town board, and various boards of village trustees. He is always reckoned a safe guide in all municipal as well as private matters. He is a member of the New York

Law Institute, and a trustee of the State Firemen's Home.

Previous to his elevation to the bench, Mr. Croak enjoyed a large and lucrative practice in New York, which he has turned over to his son, William T., who is one of the rising young lawyers of the borough.

HON. NATHANIEL MARSH.

THE HON. NATHANIEL MARSH, city magistrate, has been prominent in the government of Staten Island for nearly two score of years, and is widely known as a lawyer, supervisor and police justice of Edgewater. Mr. Marsh is the eldest son of the late Nathaniel, Marsh and was born in the house at Clifton, which is still his home. He was graduated from Princeton and from the Columbia law school, and for many years was a member of the late firm of Marsh, Winsor & Townsend, and more recently head of the late firm of Marsh & Bull, with offices at 19 Broadway, Manhattan.

He first assumed public duties as a trustee of the village of Edgewater. During his term of office as trustee, and owing largely to his efforts, the village debt of $100,000, was paid off and cancelled. Eighteen years ago he was chosen supervisor of Southfield, which position he filled continuously until the board of supervisors passed out of existence, on December 31st, 1897. For seventeen years, Mr. Marsh was chairman of the county board, and his successful efforts for the advancement of the interests of Staten Island are too well known to need rehearsing at this time. It is probable that no man, in public office to-day, has so long a record of unbroken service where election came annually from the people at the polls.

Judge Marsh was for over twenty years a director of the Staten Island railway and was at one time acting president of the Staten Island railway, is a director and member of the executive committee of the Richmond County Gas Light Company, of which corporation he is also counsel, is a member of the S. I. Cricket and Base-ball Club, the S. R. C. County Club, and vice-president of the Clifton Boat Club.

Since June 1889, Mr. Marsh has been a police justice in Edgewater, and he will retire from one position to enter the other, and will continue to sit in the court room which he has occupied for the past nine years.

FRANCIS F. LEMAN.

FRANCIS F. LEMAN, clerk of the municipal Court, first district, borough of Richmond, was born in New York and thirty years ago came to Staten Island with his parents, who located at Mariners' Harbor. After completing the course of studies in the village district school, he went to Grammar school, No. 35, New York city, from which he entered the College of the City of New York. He was graduated from the college in 1882, with degree of Bachelor of Arts, being the prize speaker of the senior class. He then entered Columbia College Law School, but after a few months he left that institution and entered into mercantile business, which he followed until five years ago, when he again resumed his studies of law, and was graduated from the University of the State of New York, with degree of Bachelor of Laws, with honors.

This is the first political position Mr. Leman has ever held, although he has always been closely identified with the Democratic organization in Richmond county, and has represented his district in state and county conventions, and was chairman of the congressional convention, held in New York city, in 1894, which nominated Franklin Bartlett for congress.

Mr. Leman now resides on Taylor street, West New Brighton, in the first ward of the borough.

PETER TIERNAN.

PETER TIERNAN, clerk to the 2nd district municipal court, is a native of Ireland, but came to America in 1851, and settled at Tompkinsville, where he still resides.

Mr. Tiernan has always taken an active interest in politics and been honored with many offices of trust.

As early as 1853 he was elected school trustee, which office he held two terms; he was then made school collector for three successive terms, and from 1876 to 1880, was tax collector for the town of Middletown. He has served fifteen years as a member of Neptune Fire Engine Company, No. 6, and eight years in the 69th Regt., N. Y. S. M.

Mr. Tiernan is best known, however, through his official position as justice of the peace. When the town government was abolished Mr. Tiernan was serving his ninth consecutive term, which would have made, but for consolidation, thirty-six years' continuous service. He was the oldest justice, in point of service, on the Island.

WILLIAM C. CASEY.

WILLIAM C. CASEY, clerk of the police court of the first district of the borough of Richmond, was born in Ireland in 1848. He came to America while quite young, and after spending some time in San Francisco and Chicago, came to Staten Island and settled in New Brighton, in 1867. He has been a justice of the peace of the town of Castleton for the past twenty years, and served two terms as justice of the sessions, and has been a member of the Democratic County General Committee for twenty-four consecutive years. He has also been a member of the school board of school district No. 4, of Castleton, for the past fourteen years and chairman of the board for ten years.

Mr. Casey was one of the best known justices on the Island, and has heard and decided many important cases with judicial fairness.

MICHAEL BRENNAN.

MICHAEL BRENNAN, chief clerk of the city magistrate's court, second district of Richmond borough, was born at Stapleton, Feb. 24th, 1855. At the age of fourteen, he began work at the printing business, in the office of the Richmond County Gazette, where he served an apprenticeship of five years. Afterward, he worked as a journeyman for a number of years in New York book offices. In 1881, he was elected collector of taxes for the town of Middletown, and served one term. In 1882, he went to Albany and was messenger for the ways and means committee, while the Hon. Erastus Brooks was chairman of that committee. In 1884, he became the manager of the Staten Island Leader, and held that position until the charter of the Greater City went into effect, and he received the appointment to his present position.

AUDITORS' DEPARTMENT.

WALTER H. HOLT.

WALTER H. HOLT, auditor of the borough, was born at Salisbury, N. C., although his mother was a native of New York city. He was educated in the schools of his native village, and at the age of sixteen years, started out to make his way in the world.

His first position was as railway clerk on the Richmond and Danville railroad, where he learned telegraphy and railroading, and at the age of eighteen, he was appointed agent at Concord, N. C., and at the same time was made lay-reader of the Episcopal church at that place.

In 1880, he came to New York, and was employed in the offices of the Manhattan Elevated railway until 1886, when he entered the law office of Davies, Cole & Rapallo, of 32 Nassau street (now Davies, Stone & Auerbach), as a law student.

In 1888, the society of "Grex" was formed, consisting of Professor Robert D. Petty, of the Columbia Law School, Mr. Holt, James W. Osborne, assistant district-attorney of New York, ex-Senator Thomas C. O'Sullivan, and William H. Thitchener, now of the firm of Curtis, Millett, Provost & Colt, of which John G. Carlisle, ex-secretary of the treasury, is a member.

This association had rooms in West 57th street, where the members studied law after office hours, and had special lectures, beside attending the lectures at the New York Law School.

Mr. Holt was admitted to the bar in 1893, but remained with the same firm until 1897, when he began the practice of the law on his own account, with offices at 218 and 220

Broadway, where, with his associate, Ezra Tuttle, an able trial lawyer, he still keeps up his legal business.

In 1893, Mr. Holt married a daughter of one of the oldest Staten Island families, which has title deeds from King George IV. He has one son, aged two years.

In 1896, Mr. Holt was the Democratic candidate for assembly, and, although defeated, ran 900 votes ahead of the presidential candidate. In 1897, he was appointed expert accountant by Comptroller Fitch to audit the accounts and bonded indebtedness of the borough of Brooklyn.

The office of auditor which Mr. Holt now holds takes the place of the former county treasurer and all village clerks and treasurers and town clerks. He also audits all claims against the county, and is the head of the finance department of the borough.

Auditor Holt is a member of the Democratic Club, of New York, and the Minqua Club, of New York (Tammany Hall); also of the following Staten Island organizations: Richmond Lodge, 66, F. & A. M., S. I. Whist Club, Hickory Democratic Club, Standard Quartette Club, Kill von Kull Yacht Club.

EDWIN SHAW TWYFORD.

EDWIN S. TWYFORD, deputy auditor of the borough of Richmond, was born in New Brighton, March 7th, 1871, and attended the public schools of the village until he was 14 years of age. He then went to Germany and attended the High school in Braunschweig three years, passing the examination for first college grade.

He then returned home and entered the law office of Thomas W. Fitzgerald, then district-attorney, where he remained four years as law clerk and searcher of titles.

In 1897, he was made inspector of roads, having charge of the highways along the route of the extension of the Staten Island Electric Railroad Co. He held this office until he received his appointment as deputy auditor of the borough.

TAX DEPARTMENT.

---

JOHN J. FETHERSTON.

JOHN J. FETHERSTON, deputy receiver of taxes, has been a life-long resident of Richmond county, and has always been prominently identified with local politics.

He has held various offices, having been chief of the North Shore Fire Department for one term, trustee of the first ward of the village of New Brighton for ten years, and president of this village for five terms, which office he resigned in 1892, to accept the office of treasurer of the village of New Brighton, to which office he was appointed by the unanimous vote of the board of trustees.

He has held this office continuously from the date of his first appointment until the village was merged into the Greater New York, Jan. 1st, 1898.

Mr. Fetherston has always been known as an official of unquestioned integrity and honesty, and is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office to which he has recently been appointed.

GEORGE BRAND.

GEORGE BRAND, deputy collector of assessments and arrears, was born in Stapleton in 1860, and educated in the public schools of the village.

In 1892, he was elected tax collector of school district No. 2, of Middletown and Southfield, the largest school district in the county. He held this office continuously from 1892 to 1897, when the office was abolished.

He was elected town clerk of the town of Middletown in 1892, and was re-elected each year until the new charter abolished all town offices.

On the organization of the new city government Mr. Brand was appointed collector of assessments and arrears, and has his office in the village hall at Stapleton.

ABRAM GREENWALD.

ABRAM GREENWALD, assistant deputy collector of the third ward of Richmond borough, is a native of Staten Island. He was educated in the public schools and at Trinity school, New Brighton, one of the best and most thorough institutions of the kind, in the county. He was graduated in 1876, after which he took a course in Packard's Business College. He then entered the dry-goods store of his father, the late Moses Greenwald, of Port Richmond, as partner, the firm being M. Greenwald & Son. This firm continued in business until the death of the father in January last.

Mr. Greenwald was a member of the old county excise board, of which he was elected chairman, and held that office until the board was abolished by the Raines law. Although not an office seeker, he has always been strongly identified with the Democratic party of the county, and taken prominent part in their councils.

In 1884, he married Miss Emma Stein, of Brooklyn. They have one daughter, May.

REINHARD KALTENMEIER.

REINHARD KALTENMEIER, assistant deputy collector for the fourth ward of the borough of Richmond (old town of Southfield), was born in Germany Feb. 27th, 1840, and is a wood-carver by trade. He came to America when fourteen years of age and resided in New York city from 1854 to 1860 when he came to Staten Island and settled at Clifton where he now resides.

Mr. Kaltenmeier has held public office for many years and has always been known as a faithful, painstaking official. His first office was that of town constable, to which he was elected for four successive years, from 1862 to 1866. He was town assessor for four successive years, from 1867 to 1871, school tax collector for four years, 1872, 1873, 1881 and 1882. He served as town auditor two years and as collector of state, town and county tax for the years 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892 and 1893. During thirty-eight years' residence on the Island he has held public office nineteen years, or just half the time.

Mr. Kaltenmeier organized Clifton Engine Company No. 8, in 1863, was elected its first treasurer, and held that office continuously up to the present time.

JACOB HERREL.

JACOB HERREL, assistant collector of assessments and arrears for the 6th ward, borough of Richmond, was born in Baden, Germany, in 1833, and, in 1850, came to America and settled at Port Jervis, N. Y., where he learned the shoemaker's trade. He came to Tottenville in 1856, and opened a custom shoe shop. In 1862, he built a store on Main street, which he has since occupied, and which was, until a few years ago, the only exclusive shoe store on this end of the Island.

Mr. Herrel was trustee of the village for several years, under the revived charter, and was trustee of the public school for many years. He has always been known as one of the progressive men of the village, and an earnest advocate of all improvements.

He was married in 1859, to Miss Katherine Seeger, of Wurtemburg, Germany, who died in 1891. He has six children: Georg, Kate, Emma, Louise, William J. and Sophia (Mrs. Lindenmeyer, of Stapleton).

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

GEORGE C. HUBBARD, M. D.

DR. GEORGE C. HUBBARD, assistant sanitary superintendent for the borough of Richmond, was born in Ohio in 1831. He was graduated from the New York Medical University in 1859, and began the practice of medicine at Tottenville with his father, the late Dr. Eber W. Hubbard.

In September 1862, he entered the army, and was appointed assistant surgeon to the 165th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. On the retirement of the surgeon, Dr. James F. Ferguson, in 1864, Dr. Hubbard was promoted to the office of surgeon, which position he held until the regiment was mustered out, at the close of the war.

He then returned to Tottenville and resumed practice with his father, and since the death of the latter, in May 1872, he has continued the practice alone.

When the Mount Loretto Mission was opened, the Rev. Father Drumgoole appointed the doctor as physician to the institution, and from that time he has had the medical care of the 1200 to 1500 inmates. He has also served frequently as health officer of the town and village, and served a number of years as police commissioner.

The doctor is a member of Huguenot Lodge, F. & A. M., and has served two terms as deputy grand master.

J. WALTER WOOD, A. M., M. D.

DR. J. WALTER Wood, of Port Richmond, assistant registrar of records, is a native of Staten Island, and a descendant of the Dongan family. He was born at Mariners' Harbor, April 23rd, 1856.

He is well known throughout the Island as an enterprising member of the profession, thoroughly up to date in all matters pertaining to his profession, and enjoying a large practice. He has been for many years health officer of the town of Northfield and the village of Port Richmond, and served three years as coroner of the county.

Dr. Wood is a 32nd degree Mason and is a past master of Richmond Lodge, past high priest of the Tyrian Chapter, past district-deputy of the 27th Masonic District of the state of New York, surgeon of York commandery, a noble of Mecca Shrine, and was for several years president of the S. I. Masonic Mutual Benefit Association, and is examining physician for the Northwestern Assurance Company.

He is past chancellor of S. I. Lodge, K. of P., and examining physician for the Odd Fellows, Workingmen, Foresters and Legion of Honor, visiting surgeon to the S. R. Smith Infirmary and president of the Hickory Democratic Club, of Richmond borough. He is a member of the Democratic Club, of New York, and is chairman of the committee on hospitals and charities of the S. I. chamber of commerce.

He was graduated from the College of the City of New York, in 1878, receiving the degree of A. B., and the degree of A. M. three years later. He was graduated from College of Physicians and Surgeons, of New York city, in 1881, and was connected afterward with the New York and Bellevue hospitals. He located at first at Madison, New Jersey, where he stayed for two years. His health failing, he located at Port Richmond, where he has been ever since.

CHARLES E. HOYER.

CHARLES E. HOYER, assistant chief clerk to the department of health, of the city of New York, was born March 25th, 1864, only son of the late Captain Charles W. Hoyer, well known in marine circles, who for many years commanded the famous old Collins Mail Steamship "Atlantic." When a boy, he accompanied his parents at sea, and visited nearly every prominent port in the world.

Mr. Hoyer is a graduate of the Broad Street Military Academy in Philadelphia. In 1883, he entered New York journalism and since that time has been the Staten Island correspondent for the leading New York dailies and the Standard News Ass'n, representing the New York Associated Press.

In 1892, when a county board of excise was created, Mr. Hoyer was appointed clerk to the new board, which position he held for three consecutive terms.

He was one of the organizers of the Staten Island Yacht Club, of which organization he for two years was elected commodore. He was also a charter member of Pioneer Lodge, No. 335, A. O. U. W., and Stapleton Council No. 1435, Royal Arcanum; was secretary of the former lodge for three years. He is also a member of Tompkins Lodge, No. 471, F & A. M., of Stapleton, the New York Press Club, Staten Island Press Club, and is a member of the Edgewater Fire Department.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

CHARLES A. JONES.

CHARLES A. JONES, chief of the bureau of elections for the borough of Richmond, was born at Tompkinsville in 1856, where he now resides, and has always voted in the same election district in the town of Middletown. His father, the late Major Frank S. Jones, of the Seventy-third Regiment, was one of the organizers of the Whig Party in Richmond county.

Mr. Jones was educated in the public schools, after which he entered the ship news department of the New York Herald, remaining several years. In 1880, he branched out in the real estate and newspaper advertising business, which he still continues. He is a veteran of the 9th Regiment, N. G., N. Y., having served in that organization seven years; also a veteran of the famous 7th Regiment, N. G., N. Y., where he served nine years. He was honorably discharged from each regiment with the rank of sergeant.

He is a member of the A. O. U. W., the Templars of Liberty, the Edgewater Fire Department, the Veterans of the 7th Regiment and the 7th Regiment Veteran League. He was treasurer of school district No. 1, Middletown, for fifteen years, a member of the board of health of the village of Edgewater for seven years, serving as president of that body for three years. Mr. Jones was appointed a member of the Richmond

County Park Commission by Governor Black, in June 1897, serving as treasurer until he resigned in January 1898. At the January meeting of the Republican General Committee he was elected chairman of that body by an overwhelming majority, and at the February meeting resigned the office, to accept the appointment by the police commissioners of New York, chief of the bureau of elections for the borough of Richmond.

CHARITIES DEPARTMENT.

JAMES FEENY.

JAMES FEENY, commissioner of charities and corrections for the borough of Richmond, is the eldest son of the late Dr. Joseph Feeny, who settled on Staten Island about 1840. In 1849, his father opened the first drug store on Staten Island.

In 1863, Mr. Feeny succeeded his father in the drug business, and from that time Dr. Feeny devoted himself entirely to the practice of his profession.

In 1864, Dr. Feeny removed to Jersey City, and the following year was appointed health officer of the city, holding the office at the time of his death, which occurred in 1866.

Mr. Feeny has continued in business at the old stand from the time he succeeded his father, to the present, making such improvements in his store and business as has kept it to the front and one of the leading drug stores on the Island.

Attending strictly to his business, Mr. Feeny has never sought for, or held office until he was appointed to his present position by the mayor of New York.

JOSEPH B. PEARCE, JR.

JOSEPH B. PEARCE, JR., superintendent of the Richmond borough almshouse, was born in Port Richmond in 1846. He was educated in the common schools, and, during his spare hours, he used to work in his father's bakery, and in that way acquired a considerable knowledge of the business.

In 1862, when only sixteen years of age, he went to Washington and obtained a situation in the government bakery which was then located in the basement of the capital. The bakery was soon afterward moved to Georgetown, where Mr. Pearce's superior knowledge of the business soon attracted the attention of the army officers, and he was detailed to superintend the building of an army bake shop at Fairfax Seminary, of which, at the age of seventeen years, he was made superintendent.

His next work was to build and superintend a bakery for Camp Convalescents and furnish bread for the 20,000 soldiers located there. He was then put in charge of the bakery at Gen. Grant's head quarters as superintendent of one of the eight hour watches, where he remained until the close of the war, and was with Gen. Grant at the time of Lee's surrender.

At the close of the war, Mr. Pearce returned to Port Richmond and engaged in the business of baker, caterer and confectioner, which he carried on until he received his appointment as superintendent of the borough almshouse. He has served as trustee of the village of Port Richmond for three years, and has been overseer of the poor for the past twelve years.

ROADS AND SEWER DEPARTMENT.

HENRY P. MORRISON.

HENRY PRENTICE MORRISON, deputy commissioner and chief engineer of highways and bridges, water-works and sewers, was born in Troy, N. Y., January 14th, 1858.

His early education consisted of a course in the public schools of New York city, from which he was graduated in 1873. From here he went to Clark's Academy, graduating in 1876, when he entered the University of the City of New York, as a freshman, graduating in 1880, and having two degrees conferred upon him, namely, Bachelor of Science and Civil Engineer. While an undergraduate of the University, he was twice president of the Philomatheon Society, a member of the Psi-Upsilon Fraternity, and was selected by the faculty to represent the University in oratory at the inter-collegiate contest of 1880, receiving second award at the contest, there being ten colleges represented.

After his graduation from the University, Mr. Morrison received a position with John S. Bogert, then secretary of the American Society of Civil Engineers, as secretary to that gentleman. His health being poor, he sought active field work and secured an engagement on the Eastern Shore railroad of Maryland, and there remained until he was appointed to the department of public works in New York city, being assigned to the bureau of sewers. He followed sewerage engineering for eighteen months, and was then promoted and transferred to the paving department, becoming first assistant to Horace Loomis, then engineer in charge of paving in New York city. For the past eleven years he has made a specialty of paving and road building, refusing all offers of transfer to other departments, in many cases valuable, in order that he might stay at his specialty, and has planned, estimated for, and performed the engineering work on over six million dollars' worth of pavement of all classes, an experience in that line such as few engineers in the United States have had. He has also built up a large private clientage, among whom are some of the heaviest quarry and iron contractors in the country.

In the spring of 1893, Mr. Morrison was appointed county road engineer, and has performed his work in that capacity so thoroughly, and shown such skill and ability, that there has never been any thought of making a change. During the past five years he has built about fifty miles of macadam roads and these are acknowledged to be among the best roads in the state. Mr. Morrison's work on Staten Island has given him a wide reputation as a road builder, and he is often called upon to give lectures on road building, before public bodies, and his advice is sought by public officials and road engineers throughout the entire state, New England and New Jersey. His roads have become the models wherever the new movement for good roads has gained a foothold. He has made Staten Island the paradise of bicyclists, and every fair day in summer thousands of wheelmen and wheel-women are seen spinning along our highways. These roads have become an important source of revenue to Staten Islanders, as bicyclists spend hundreds of thousands of dollars here each year.

The people of the Island are to be congratulated that Mr. Morrison remains in charge of their highways.

Engineer Morrison's corps of assistants consists of the following: Wm. B. Kenney, chief clerk; Mortimer Denyse, assistant clerk; F. S. Oxholm, engineer in charge; Elson Starr, assistant engineer; Michael Brennan and J. F. Creedon, rodmen; George Cornell, leveler; A. F. Grunenthal, draughtsman; Wm. Hagerty, general inspector; Harry Denyse, assistant inspector.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

DANIEL CAMPBELL.

DANIEL CAMPBELL, commissioner of buildings for the boroughs of Richmond and Queens, was born in the city of New York, July 12th, 1851, and came to Staten Island with his parents in infancy.

He received his education in the common schools of the Island, and at the age of ten years went to work in the works of the New York Printing and Dyeing Company.

He remained with this firm until he was fifteen years of age, when he began to learn the carpenter's trade. He advanced rapidly and at the age of thirty, he started business on his own account as builder, contractor and superintendent.

During the past fifteen years he has built many of the largest houses and business buildings on Staten Island, beside a large amount of work in New Jersey.

Mr. Campbell has served as supervisor of the town of Castleton, president of the board of health of the village of New Brighton, and as trustee of school district No. 2, town of Castleton.

Mr. Campbell is emphatically a self-made man, is thoroughly skilled in all branches of the building trade, a man of push and energy, and will make a thorough and competent commissioner of buildings.

CORONERS.

JOHN SEAVER.

JOHN SEAVER, coroner of Richmond borough, was born on Staten Island at the old home-stead near Richmond. After leaving school, he learned the trade of miller, at which he worked for six years. In 1874, he started Seaver's New York and Staten Island Express, and continued the business until January 1st, 1898. He was school trustee of the first district of Southfield and Northfield six years, and chairman of the board five years. In 1889, he was elected highway commissioner for the town of Southfield, and held the office continuously until January 1st, 1898, and during the entire term was treasurer of the board.

It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Seaver that the people of Richmond and Southfield secured a five-cent fare from Richmond to St. George, on the Midland Electric railroad, with transfers over all the other branches. The company proposed to charge ten cents to St. George and not to give transfers over the Port Richmond branch, but Commissioner Seaver refused to consent to these terms, and thereby secured a five-cent fare over the entire line.

GEORGE C. TRANTER.

GEORGE C. TRANTER, coroner of Richmond borough, was born in Richmond county and educated in the public school of Port Richmond. After leaving school, he served his time as carpenter with Frederick Deppee and James Whitford, at that time prominent builders. In 1875, he began business for himself as contractor and builder, but the following year removed to Florida, where he built the South Florida Journal office, H. L. DeForest's warehouse, and other large buildings in the city of Sanford. In 1877, when the city was incorporated, he was elected the first city marshal.

In 1879, on account of the death of his father, the late Charles Tranter, he returned to Staten Island, and again engaged in the building business. In 1882, he was elected chief engineer of the North Shore Fire department. In 1892, he was elected trustee of the village of Port Richmond, and two years later was re-elected for a second term. He was elected member of the first board of county excise commissioners, but refused to accept the office. In 1896, he was nominated for the assembly, but withdrew from the ticket. In 1898, he was elected coroner for Richmond borough.

MARTIN HUGHES.

MARTIN HUGHES, clerk to the board of coroners of the borough of Richmond, was born in New York in 1857, and was educated at the Brothers' school and at St. Francis Xavier's college, after which he spent considerable time in the study of medicine. In 1871, he came, with his father's family, to Staten Island, where he has resided ever since. In 1885, he opened an undertaking office in Clifton, and he has built up a large and successful business.

In 1886, he was elected coroner on the Democratic ticket, and, at the expiration of his term, was re-elected, and again in 1892, making three consecutive terms. Among the important cases which he has investigated as coroner, were the death of Mary Tobin, the mystery of which no skill has been able to solve; the Emmons murder case, which resulted in the conviction of the murderer; the Crooke's crossing railroad accident, in which three persons were killed, and many other important cases which attracted much public attention at the time.

On the organization of the first board of coroners, under the city charter, Mr. Hughes was made clerk to the board, and the knowledge gained, while serving as one of the county coroners, has been of the utmost use to the new board.

SCHOOL BOARD.

FRANK PERLET.

FRANK PERLET, president of the school board of Richmond borough, and Richmond member of the New York city board of education, was born in New York April 25th, 1865. When he was five years of age, he came to Staten Island with his parents, who settled in West New Brighton. After completing his education in the common schools, he went to Princeton, N. J., and entered the drygoods store of John B. Dye as salesman. He remained there two years and then went into the store of Edward Ridley & Sons, of New York, where he remained fourteen years. About a year ago, he was made manager of the Prentice Carting Co., of New York, which position he still holds.

Mr. Perlet is a member of Richmond Lodge, No. 66, F. & A. M., of the Chosen Friends, Jersey City, and of Starin Hose Company, of which he was president two terms.

GEORGE T. EGBERT.

GEORGE T. EGBERT, member of the school board, of Richmond borough, was born in July 1851, at Erastina. When twelve years of age he entered the Mt. Washington Collegiate Institute, of New York, from which he was graduated with high honors.

He began business with Gasherie, Emery & Co., of New York, and soon rose to the position of book-keeper. Eight years later he resigned that position, and in 1876, became cashier of the Consolidated Fire-works Company of America, the largest manufacturers of fire-works in the world. In 1892, Mr. Egbert, who is a large stock-holder, was unanimously elected secretary.

Mr. Egbert was a member of the old board of education for several years, and has held many offices of trust in the Summerfield M. E. Church, with which he has been connected for more than twenty years.

Mr. Egbert has also held the office of president of the board of sewer commissioners, and of trustee and president of the village of Port Richmond; in all of which positions he has discharged his duties with ability, honesty and fidelity, which have commanded the respect and confidence of the entire community.

SAMUEL ANDERSON.

SAMUEL ANDERSON, member of the board of education of the borough of Richmond, was born in Canada on the 28th day of June, 1840. After having received a common school education, when about the age of twenty-three, he came to New York city and in the year following, that is, in 1864, he came to Staten Island where he has since resided and become one of its most respected citizens.

Mr. Anderson was a printer by trade and was the successor of John Bale as editor and publisher of the Richmond County Gazette, which was at that time owned by the late Dr. William C. Anderson. This paper is now the oldest published on Staten Island.

Mr. Anderson, ever wide awake and watchful for new opportunities, soon saw a chance to get into the real estate and insurance business, grasped the opportunity and made the best of it. In this new line of business Mr. Anderson was equally as successful as he had been as a printer and publisher. He has bought, sold and dealt largely in real estate and is now looked upon as an authority in all real estate matters.

In the year 1874, Mr. Anderson married Mary A. Tong, whose parents were old residents of Staten Island, and he has now a family of seven children.

Mr. Anderson has always been an enthusiast for anything that would promote and benefit Staten Island.

As an organizer and stockholder he saw built and operated the first street railroad on Staten Island. He also did much as a director toward the inception and incorporation of the Crystal Water Company which now supplies the water to what was formerly the village of Edgewater. He is a director in the Richmond County Gas Light Company, and also one of the directors and an appraiser of the Edgewater Co-operative Savings and Building Loan Association, which is one of the best institutions of its kind in the state.

Mr. Anderson is of an unassuming and retiring disposition, and has heretofore refused all offers of public office at the hands of his party. In politics he has always been a Democrat, of the most sturdy and reliable type, and while not so conspicuous as a party leader, has, in his own quiet way, done much toward the success of the party which has honored him.

The present position as one of the members of the first board of education came to him unsought and unsolicited and was clearly a case of the office seeking the man, to which he will certainly do honor.

The people of the borough of Richmond are to be congratulated on having such an active and interested member on the board of education as Mr. Anderson.

HON. HUBBARD R. YETMAN.

THE Hon. HUBBARD R. YETMAN, superintendent of schools for the borough of Richmond, was born in Monmouth county, New Jersey, in 1847, and was educated in the high school at Freehold. When scarcely fifteen years of age he enlisted in the 14th Regt. N. Y. Vols., and went to the front as a drummer boy. He remained until his regiment was mustered out at the close of the war, and was in a number of severe engagements. He, however, escaped without any serious injury. On his return from the army, he settled at Tottenville, and taught in the public schools for fifteen years. During this time he was elected to the office of justice of the peace for several terms and also represented several insurance companies, for which he secured a large business,

In 1883, he received the Democratic nomination for member of assembly and was elected by a heavy majority. He was again elected to the assembly in 1891 and 1892, in both instances receiving large majorities. During each of Mr. Yetman's terms in the assembly, he was honored by important committee appointments.

In 1896, when the town appropriated $35,000 for macadamizing the principal thoroughfares of the town, Mr. Yetman was appointed road engineer and had charge of the work. In the spring of 1897, he was elected supervisor of the town of Westfield, and was also made surveyor and had charge of all the street work and the building of the water-works for the village.

FRANKLIN C. VITT.

FRANKLIN C. VITT, secretary and executive officer of the borough board of education, was born in New York city in May 1853. In 1865, he came with his parents to Staten Island, and has since resided here.

Mr. Vitt was for a time managing clerk for a firm of New York lawyers, but resigned the position in 1883, when he was elected justice of the peace for the town of Middletown. He held this office continuously up to the time of the consolidation.

In 1890, Mr. Vitt was appointed clerk of the board of supervisors, and held the position until the board went out of existence, on the inception of the new charter.

Mr. Vitt has the reputation of being the most careful, prompt and accurate clerk the board ever had, which is sufficient proof that he will prove an efficient and satisfactory secretary to the borough board of education.

MICHAEL J. COLLINS.

MICHAEL J. COLLINS, deputy clerk for the borough of Richmond, was born in Brooklyn in 1856. When he was six years of age, his family moved to Staten Island, where Michael, after a course of study in the public schools, studied the classics under a private tutor.

After completing his education, he returned to Brooklyn, where he remained in business for four years, and then he returned to Staten Island. In 1884, he was appointed secretary to the board of health, and in 1886 was made clerk of the village of Edgewater, and the fact that he held this position for thirteen consecutive years, under different boards of trustees, and until the office was abolished, is the best proof of how well he performed the duties of his office.

Mr. Collins has also served as a member of the board of directors of the Edgewater Co-operative Building and Loan Association, is a member of the Southfield Lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen 401, has been treasurer of the Forester's, Court Staten Island, for the past six years, and is one of the charter members of the Edgewater C. B. L.

Mr. Collins is a Democrat, active in politics, and has served as secretary of several conventions.

COUNTY OFFICIALS.

HON. STEPHEN D. STEPHENS.

STEPHEN DOVER STEPHENS, the county judge and surrogate of Richmond county, was born beneath the shadow of the court-house at Richmond, on the 19th day of April, 1845. His father and paternal ancestors for three generations back were born in New York city, his mother and maternal ancestors being natives of Staten Island. Judge Stephens pursued his preparatory studies at Trinity school, New York, subsequently passed with honor through the several departments of Columbia College, and, in 1866, he was graduated from that institution with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Subsequently, he entered Columbia College Law school, and, in 1868, was graduated therefrom with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In the following year he received the degree of Master of Arts. He immediately entered upon the practice of the law, and continued in active practice until he was elevated to his present position.

In politics, Judge Stephens is a Democrat. In 1873, he was elected to represent Richmond county in the assembly of 1874, and served on the important committees on railroads, and also the committee on villages. In 1874, he was again elected to represent the county in the assembly of 1875, and that year served as chairman of the committee on villages and also as a member of the committee on railroads and public lands. In the "Life Sketches" of 1875, we find this said of him: "Mr. Stephens is an active and energetic young man, and represents the county of Richmond for the second time. He is a finely-educated gentleman, a good public speaker, and, owing to his industrious habits and executive ability, is exceedingly valuable in the details of legislation and committee work."

In 1881, Mr. Stephens was elected to his present position, over Tompkins Westervelt, the Republican candidate, by a handsome majority; and in 1887, he was re-elected, practically without opposition, the Republicans making no nomination against him. In 1893, Judge Stephens was re-elected for the third term, and although every other candidate on the ticket, for an important office, was defeated, Judge Stephens' popularity carried him through to victory, and he was elected by over six hundred majority. During his seventeen years of service as county judge and surrogate, many of the most important cases which have ever arisen in Richmond county have been before him. Rarely has an appeal from his decisions been taken, and never has he been reversed by the court of last resort, the court of appeals.

He is a member of the Episcopal denomination and is a regular attendant at old St. Andrew's, at Richmond, in which church he was brought up, and where his ancestors worshipped before him.

In 1884, Judge Stephens married Agnes L. Lasar, of Brooklyn, a descendant of the old Pitkin family, of Connecticut. The union has proved a most happy one and two sons have been born to them, Stephen D., Junior, and Richmond, the latter having been named after the county and the place of Judge Stephens' birth, for which he has always maintained the greatest affection.

Happy in his domestic life, with an un-sullied family history, and with an unimpeachable record of his own, both in private and public life, Judge Stephens may well be classed as one of the most prominent men in Richmond county.

GEORGE MILLER PINNEY, JR.

CHARTER COMMISSIONER AND DISTRICT-ATTORNEY.

GEORGE MILLER PINNEY, JR., born in Windsor, Dane county, Wis., March 8th, 1856, is the son of George Miller Pinney, a native of Pennsylvania, and Harriet M. Whitney, of Ohio. He is a lineal descendant of Humphrey Pinney who came to America from Somersetshire, England, about the year 1630, landing first at Plymouth and removing thence to Dorchester, Mass., thence to Windsor, Conn., and finally settling in Ellington, Conn. His grandfather, Aaron Hall Pinney, was born at Becket, Mass., in 1805.

Mr. Pinney was taught entirely by his mother until her death, in 1865. Subsequently, he attended Racine College in Racine, Wis.; General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute in New Haven, Conn.; and the University of California, which he attended from 1871 until April 1874. In June 1874, he entered Harvard College, and was graduated with honors in 1878, being one of the commencement orators. After graduation, he spent two years as tutor at St. Mark's School, Southborough, Mass., and DeVeaux College, Suspension Bridge, New York, and was graduated from the Harvard Law School with honors in 1882, doing the last two years' work in one. He came to New York in September 1882, entered the office of Evarts, Southmayd & Choate, and remained with that firm and with its successor—Evarts, Choate & Beeman—until October 1st, 1886. He was admitted to the bar in New York in November 1883. In October 1886, with Willis B. Sterling, of Cleveland, Ohio, he formed the firm of Pinney & Sterling. On October 1st, 1890, this firm was dissolved, and Mr. Pinney practiced alone until October 1st, 1891, when he became a member of the firm of Carter, Pinney & Kellogg. On January 1st, 1893, he severed this connection, and once more practiced alone until September 1st, 1894, when he formed the firm of Pinney & Thayer, composed of himself and Aaron C. Thayer, also a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard Law school. On January 1st, 1896, Albert E. Hadlock entered the firm, which became Pinney, Thayer & Hadlock.

During the comparatively short period of his practice in New York city, Mr. Pinney has been retained in a large number of important cases. These include the Holland House litigation in 1892, growing out of disagreements between the owner and the proprietors of the hotel; the Broadway Central Hotel litigation between Mr. Tilly Haynes and Mr. Eugene Higgins; the complications arising upon the eviction of General Earle from the hotel New Netherland, and important interests in the contest over the will of Mrs. A. T. Stewart. In the case of Williams vs. Montgomery (149 N. Y.), involving novel questions as to the right to enforce specific performance of an agreement for the deposit of certificates of stock, after four successive defeats in the lower courts, he triumphantly carried his point in the court of appeals, securing a unanimous reversal. The corporations which he has represented include the Gorham Manufacturing Company, W. & J. Sloane, the Rocky Fork & Cooke City Railway Company of Montana, and Phoenix Furniture Company of Grand Rapids, Mich., and the Rawhide Gold Mining Company, of Boston.

In addition to his professional labors, since taking up his residence on Staten Island, at New Brighton, in February, 1888, Mr. Pinney has given considerable attention to politics in Richmond county. In the fall campaign of 1893, he became one of the leaders in the well-known movement to overthrow the regular Democratic party which was then in full control in the county. Himself an ardent Republican, he stumped the county in 1893 and again in 1894, in support of successful fusion tickets nominated by Republicans and Independent Democrats. In appreciation of these efforts, in February 1895, he was nominated by the Republican party for supervisor of the town of Castleton, and was elected in an exciting triangular contest, being the only successful candidate on the Republican ticket.

As a result of his energy and efficiency as supervisor in September 1895, he was nominated by acclamation by the Republican party for the position of district-attorney, the nomination being endorsed by the Independent Democratic organization, as well as by the Good Government Club. He again took the stump, speaking in every part of the county, and after a thoroughly aggressive and exciting campaign, was again the only successful Republican candidate. As indicating the extent to which the personal element entered into this campaign, it is worthy of note that while the county went Democratic on the state ticket by over 900 majority, Mr. Pinney was elected district-attorney by a plurality of 310.

In a letter the Good Government Club of Richmond county, during Mr. Pinney's candidacy, Mr. Joseph H. Choate said:

"I desire to say in regard to George M. Pinney, Jr., candidate for district-attorney in your county, that from a long personal and professional acquaintance with him, I know him to be admirably qualified for that office. Mr. Pinney is a first-rate lawyer, and has for some time had a valuable practice which he still maintains. I consider it a great gain for the county when a man like him accepts a nomination for a county office.

"He is possessed of the most undoubted courage and tenacity of purpose, and as a prosecuting officer, these qualities, combined with his professional experience and skill, would make him always efficient and formidable to wrong-doers, while his high personal character and sense of justice would secure the people of the county against the abuse of the great power and discretion vested in the district attorney."

It is generally conceded that in administering the duties of the office of district-attorney, Mr. Pinney has fully justified the high estimate of him professionally, as well as personally, made by Mr. Choate, and that he has lived up to the promises which he made to the people when accepting the nomination.

At the close of the year 1897, there were no jail or bail cases awaiting trial in the county of Richmond, with the exception of two persons indicted for murder in the first degree, who were promptly tried and convicted at the extraordinary term of the supreme court held in January 1898. As indicating, also, the success with which criminal offenders have been prosecuted, it is to be observed that only one person indicted for a felony has been acquitted during Mr. Pinney's term of office as district-attorney. While there has been no lack of vigor or of earnestness on the part of the prosecution, the trials have also been marked by a most commendable spirit of fairness. This was noticeably the fact in the four capital cases which have been tried by Mr. Pinney during his term of office.

On June 9th, 1886, Governor Morton appointed Mr. Pinney a member of the Greater New York commission from Richmond county, and at the first meeting of the commission, held on June 25th, 1896, Mr. Pinney was unanimously elected secretary of the commission.

Mr. Pinney was married June 27th, 1887, to Olive Frances, daughter of the late E. N. Child, of Worcester, Mass. They have four children—three sons and a daughter.

Copy of letter from Hon. Benjamin F. Tracy, president of the commission, to Hon. N. N. Stranahan, chairman of the joint committee on cities, senate chamber, Albany, N. Y., March 27th, 1897:

DEAR SIR:—At the organization of the commission appointed to prepare a charter for the Greater New York, it was determined, in view of the small appropriation of $25,000 to pay the expenses of the commission, to avoid the expense of a secretary by electing to that office one of the commissioners themselves. Accordingly, George M. Pinney, Jr., Esq., was appointed secretary of the commission. It was a most fortunate selection. I am sure that I express the opinion of every member of the commission when I say that had we searched the city of New York for a secretary, we could not have found anyone who, under all the circumstances of the case, would have proven so efficient and who could have rendered to the commission such valuable services as Mr. Pinney was able to render. There were great advantages in the fact that he combined the two positions of commissioner and secretary. His work as secretary has kept him constantly employed, night and day, from the time of the meeting of the commission in September until its report had been transmitted to the legislature. Not only was he himself so employed, but he impressed into the service of the commission his clerks and partner, and his private office has been made the work office of the commission.

Very truly yours,
B. F. TRACY.

New York, March 27th, 1898.

From the New York Sun, February 13th, 1897.

By far the hardest worked member of the Commission, however, has been the secretary, George M. Pinney, Jr. Mr. Pinney is the district attorney of Richmond county, and has a private law office in this city. His private business was practically put aside, and his office became the office of the Greater New York commission. There were drafted many of the provisions of the new charter. To the secretary came all the suggestions, cranky or otherwise, verbal and written. His office force was turned into a corps of assistants to aid him in handling the great mass of correspondence. Since its first printing, the better part of the charter has been printed and re-printed with amendments and corrections from four to ten times. It has been paged, re-paged, and sectioned and re-sectioned almost as many times. All this has kept Mr. Pinney and his office force at work until midnight every night for the past two weeks, and on many prior occasions. Beside acting as secretary, which necessitated his attendance at all meetings, and the keeping of the minutes, Mr. Pinney has been appointed on nearly every sub-committee appointed for special work, and has done his share of that work.

SHERIFF AUGUSTUS ACKER.

AUGUSTUS ACKER, sheriff of Richmond county, was born in the city of New York, November 30th, 1860, of German parentage, was educated in the public schools of that city, and when graduated at the age of seventeen years, he entered the law office of his brother, Edward A. Acker, and began studying for the bar.

In 1877, he came to Staten Island, and made New Brighton his home, where, in February 1889, he was elected justice of the peace, and in the following November, justice of the court of sessions, receiving the largest majority ever given for the office. He held both these offices up to the time the offices were abolished.

In 1896, Mr. Acker was elected supervisor of the town of Castleton. In 1897, he was elected sheriff of Richmond county, taking office Jan. 1st, 1898. During his term of office as justice of the peace, he probably heard more important cases than any other justice in the entire county, and his thorough knowledge of law, and the uniform fairness with which all his judgments are rendered, have given him the title of "the model justice."

Mr. Acker married Miss Caroline Almsstaedt, of New Brighton, March 26th, 1883, and has an interesting family of three children, two daughters and one son.

COUNTY CLERK ELSWORTH.

JOHN H. ELSWORTH, county clerk of Richmond county, was born at Bayonne, N. J., in 1843. He was educated in the schools at Bayonne, and remained there in business with his brothers, who were extensive oyster planters, until 1877, when he came to Staten Island and entered in co-partnership with his present partner, Capt. Peter Polworth, in the oyster planting business, in which line the firm has always done a successful business and attained a high financial rating.

Mr. Elsworth has always been a staunch, hardworking and active Republican. In 1888, he received the unanimous nomination of the Richmond County Republican Convention, for the office of sheriff, and was elected by nearly two hundred majority, although it was a presidential year and Cleveland carried the county by nearly nineteen hundred. A desperate effort was made to defeat his election on forged returns, but the fraud was discovered in time to prevent his defeat, and he was triumphantly ushered into office Jan. 1st, 1889.

During his term of office Sheriff Elsworth was often publicly complimented by the supreme court judges and by the county judge, on the efficient and faithful manner in which he performed the duties of the office, and at the close of his official term Judge Cullen, of the supreme court and the members of the county bar, irrespective of party, paid a high tribute to the manner in which Mr. Elsworth had performed his duties during his entire term.

In 1893, Mr. Elsworth was elected county clerk, and was re-elected in 1896.

The fact that Mr. Elsworth has been three times elected to important county offices, against a normal Democratic majority of over 1500, is the best proof not only of his personal popularity, but of the efficient and courteous manner in which he always performs his official duties.

CROWELL M. CONNER.

CROWELL M. CONNER, deputy county clerk, was born on the Rose and Crown farm at New Dorp. His great-grandfather, Richard Conner, settled on the Island in the latter part of the eighteenth century, about the year 1787. His grandfather, Col. Richard Conner, was in command of the Staten Island troops during the war of 1812, and his father, "Richard the third," then a youth, was an army messenger.

Col. Richard Conner served as county clerk and surrogate for a short time and was clerk of the board of supervisors for many years.

Crowell M. Conner was coroner for fifteen years, clerk of the board of supervisors for two years, has now held the office of deputy county clerk for twenty-two years, serving under County Clerks Abram V. Conner, Cornelius A. Hart, John J. Kenney and John H. Elsworth. There is no man in Richmond county who could be as useful in the office of the county, clerk as his many years of service have made him familiar with all the details of the work.

Mr. Conner married Miss Addie Morgan, of New Jersey.

WILLIAM FINLEY.

WILLIAM FINLEY, clerk to the surrogate's court of Richmond county, was born Oct. 19th, 1854, at Stapleton.

He is the eldest son of the late Michael Finley, who for over twenty years was manager of Mr. John Scott's livery stable at Clifton.

The subject of this sketch received his education at the Broad street school, Stapleton, and in early life was employed as clerk by the firm of Armstrong & Frost.

His first public office was that of town auditor of the town of Southfield, to which he was elected for two terms, and in 1878, 1879 and 1880 was elected tax collector of the same town.

On Jan. 1st, 1882, he was appointed by the Hon. Stephen D. Stephens clerk to the surrogate's court, and was re-appointed Jan. 1st, 1888, and was again re-appointed Jan. 1st, 1894, and has now held the office for sixteen consecutive years.

Mr. Finley married, on Nov. 29th, 1883, Miss Eleanor S., daughter of Justice John L. Young, of Richmond, where he now resides with his wife and three children, Susie M., Margaret and Eleanor.

LOTS, $250 to $500.

HART PARK, New Brighton,

is the most beautiful, most healthful and most inexpensive residential suburb of New York. It is situated on the hill slopes of Staten Island. It looks down on New Jersey as the gallery of a theatre looks down on a stage. Its air is so beneficial to weak lungs and shattered nerves that it is regarded by medical men as a sanitarium. Its woods and meadows epitomize all the delights of country life. Its residents are of the highest social and intellectual class. The schools, clubs, churches and other civilizing accommodations, with which it is replete, have no rivals. It is included within the boundaries of Greater New York. It is the abode of perpetual health. And it is the cheapest, as well as the most accessible, of all the suburbs of New York.

LOTS, $300 to $500.

HART HEIGHTS, Tottenville,

is within 50 minutes of the Battery, New York. It is connected with the Battery by a double track railroad. It is situated on high ground impending over a district on which new manufacturing industries are to be established. Its air is marvelously healthful. Its views are superb. A railroad station will be erected on the premises. It is full of new and various opportunities for investment. It is an embryo Paterson, Newark, Trenton. It is coming to birth armed and equipped as a manufacturing centre.

Its lots are the cheapest and most promising investment in the market.
